DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-8 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claims 1-7 of U. S. Patent No. 6,498,121 B1 (hereinafter Patent '121) since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the patent and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter, as follows:

Regarding claims 1-7, both the instant claims and the claims of Patent '121 disclose the same catalyst composition containing the same metal components and atomic percentages. Even though the instant claims do not recite the term "ternary", there is no patentable distinction between the claimed "catalyst composition" and the "ternary catalyst composition" of the Patent '121 because the compositions are the same.

Regarding claim 8, it is considered the claim is met by teaching of the Patent '121 in view of the same catalyst composition disclosed. It is inherent that the catalyst disclosed by the Patent '121 is an alloy since the same metal components are disclosed.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant was prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application during prosecution of the application which matured into a patent. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 9-16 are not being rejected under the art rejection because they contain allowable subject matter. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

The prior art does not disclose or fairly suggest a catalyst containing platinum, ruthenium, and palladium, in the atomic percents as specified in claim 9 and in combination with the requirement that the catalyst having a difference between the concentrations of ruthenium and platinum that is no greater than about 20 atomic percent.

There is no motivation to combine the teachings of the references together.

Conclusion

4. Claims 1-16 are originally pending in the application. Claims 1-8 are rejected. Claims 9-16 are allowed.
